Dear John:

I shared your letter of August 9 with Clover. We were most interested to get this insight into your trip and your impressions. I am certainly hoping to have a good long talk with you when you return to New York.

If world conditions permit, we are planning to take a trip abroad in about two weeks, but one never knows whether this would have to be put off at the last moment.

Allen is spending the week end with us and I shall give him your message. He seems to be a bit better.

Sincerely,
